The goal of this forum is to inform the community based organizations in Alameda County about the changes in health care eligibility and enrollment but to also provide a wider state and federal perspective. This forum is sponsored by the Alameda County Interagency Children's Policy Council, Alameda County Health Care Services Agency and the Alameda County Social Services Agency.

The forum series goals are to deepen the knowledge base of those serving children in Alameda County, provide a place for dialogue that leads to stronger partnerships and calls advocates for children to action on top issues.
